DSD Lab Scholarship Announcement

A competitive scholarship of $1,000 is available to qualified graduate students based on the following award criteria:

1. The awarded student must be interested in research in the area of computer architecture and design methodology.
2. Must demonstrate merit, knowledge, and potential in graduate research in the area of computer architecture and design methodology.
3. At the time of award, the student would not be committed in employment engagement(s), unless special permission is granted by the DSD Lab Scholarship Committee.

Required application documents
1. Letter of interest, indicating related courses (with GPA), related experience, and employment commitments (if any).
2. Resume.

Contact for more information or application submission:
Dr. Junghee Lee, Committee Chair (Professor of Electrical and Computer Engineering)
Email: Junghee.lee@utsa.edu

Application Deadline: August 31, 2016